

Dear Students

According the Report from the Programming Assignment 6 the following information should be included in it:

1. Which algorithms have been implemented,
2. Which programming language and operating system have been used.
3. The tables with numbers of pages' faults for all experiments (please remember to include the sequence of page requests)
4. The table with average number of faults for each algorithm
5. Conclusions
6. And finally, it will nice when you include the "user manual" for your program

Good luck
